How are minors in custody supervised?

In a Locked Cell (Section 1547)? This is not done.

In Secure Custody outside of a cell (Section 1548)? By the arresting officer who maintains constant observation of the minor. This is done in an interview room that has a half door; the upper part of the door remains open when a minor is inside. The room is located near the Sergeants’ office.

In Non-Secure Custody (Section 1550)? This is rarely done. Observation would be one on one with the arresting officer, probably in the sergeant’s office.

How often are minors in custody observed? (Section 1548):

In a Locked Cell? Minors are not kept in a locked cell.

In Secure Custody outside of a cell? By the arresting officer who remains with them throughout their time at the station.

In Non-Secure Custody? Same.

The one instance of “secured detention” was inadvertent. The arrestee provided false identifying information indicating she was 19 years old. When her true information was ascertained, she was immediately removed from secured detention.

We noted several instances in which white-out was used in the log books. Most of what was written under the white out was still legible. On one occasion, it was done because the officer filled in the information for the wrong month. Other occasions seemed to be to correct minor errors so that the records would be easily legible. We advised Sgt. Downes that the better practice was to line out the mistaken info and write the new information on a new line, rather than use white out.
