Distributed Police Chief Document, highlighting need for:

1. Transparency and accountability to the public.
2. Proper use of the realignment resources.
3. Adequate supervision of post release felons.
4. Necessity of robust home visits strategy.
5. Importance of not having banked caseloads
6. Role of front line public safety agencies
7. Need for a robust tracking and monitoring process.

Stuart Forrest, Chief Probation Officer

Clarification of discussion/process—Ken Pessa to be CCP facilitator, and work with different agency stakeholders to bring documents to larger partnership group for review and vote

Beth Freeman, Superior Court Presiding Judge
Importance of public confidence in CCP and Local Plan process.

Clarification that revocation process is governed by the California Rule of Court, constitutional due process and other legal requirements and not in the purview of the CCP Committee and the Court will not be vetting its process with the CCP Committee. Court is glad to be part of the flowchart so that the public can be advised about what the process is, once developed.

Court agreement with Steve Wagstaffe, District Attorney, to partner with the District Attorney's Office to create the revocation process.

John Beiers, Deputy County Counsel
Clarification of the Brown Act parameters for formal and workgroup meetings.

Agreement to pursue process of linking the individual agencies flowchart processes to present interim plan to larger CCP group.

C. Local first year funding allocation

Actual costs should be monitored and updates presented to the committee every quarterly.

Legislation dictates that the County Manager's Office create six accounts.

1. Local community corrections account
2. Trial Court account, which the Court will manage
3. District Attorney and Public Defender accounts
4. Juvenile Justice account
5. Health and Human Services account. Will be discussed between departments and some of the providers.
6. Supplemental law enforcement account.

Speakers recognized by the Chair:

Greg Munks, Sheriff
Susan Manheimer, San Mateo Police Chief
John Joy, Director of Program Support, Human Services Agency
David Boesch, County Manager
Steve Kaplan, Director of Behavioral Health and Recovery Services, Health Department
Hong Liu, Fiscal Services Manager, Probation
Jim Saco, Budget Director, County Manager's Office

Recommendations:

1. There are different immediate needs by October 1st. Committee should differentiate between what are the immediate needs vs. longer-term needs.

2. Develop a budget that is based on an implication timeline. Plan for both the short term what is needed by October 1st, and long term needs.
3. First budget should be for 9-month period from October-June 2012.
4. Hong Liu/Probation to create a budget template to make sure everyone describing same way and using the same terminology. Budget template should be distributed to agencies prior to meetings/presentation to CCP.
5. Hong Liu/Probation will collect/consolidate individual agency projected costs Program to present to the CCP as one document to review
6. Ken Pessa will work with Hong/individual agencies to help fashion together a preliminary budget.
7. Build in some accountability measures of success to help set future priorities. Need some shorter term measures to make sure going down right track or not. Not going to have enough recidivism data in a short time to really say whether it's actually working.
8. Time line should have budget document presented to entire CCP on September 14th and then go to the Executive Committee on September 28th for discussion and vote

D. Update regarding RFQ/Planning for Implementation Plan

Clarification that discussion around flowchart processes/budget assumptions form interim plan that addresses Supervisor Tissier's comments along with others from the original CCP meeting that the county have something in place when the first parolees return to localities.

Concurrently, Probation will use CCP decision from 8/3/2011 meeting to issue an RFQ for up the $25,000 to hire a consultant to help CCP consolidate and write the formal local plan that will be reviewed and recommended by the CCP to the Executive Committee and then to the Board of Supervisors for review and approval. Ideally, there should be draft of the RFQ to present at the next Executive Committee meeting so the committee can see it before it goes out and there will be a consultant in place in October.

E. Confirmation of upcoming meeting schedule

Upcoming meeting schedule confirmed. See meeting schedule document.

5. Adjournment

Meeting was adjourned at 4:15 p.m.
